

THE MEDICINE CABINET

"the new dealer in town"

Prescription drug abuse is a problem among teens today. A major source of the problem starts right in our medicine cabinets. One in six teens have used a prescription drug recreationally, which was not prescribed to them. The majority of teens who abuse prescription drugs reported to have taken them from a family member or friend.

The Lowell and The Tewksbury Police Departments along with The Lowell Health Department are joining forces to raise awareness on prescription drug abuse and opioid addiction.
